Subject: Dodge Ram 1500 EcoDiesel emissions certification issue

Dear Mr. S. Pruitt

I hope this email finds you well.

On November 2016, I placed an order for a 2017 Dodge Ram 1500 equipped with a 3.0 L EcoDiesel engine through a Dodge dealership.

I was advised the truck will be ready by the beginning of February. I followed that timeline so I can sell my truck on time for delivery of my new Dodge Ram. I went ahead and sold my truck on the 10th of January and 2 days later was informed of the emission accusation case against FCA.

I am an electrician who runs a business for a living, and my truck was my main tool. I am now left in a very difficult situation because I am not able to run my business without a truck. I am very behind schedule on my work which is really hurting my business. I was hoping that by now I would have my brand new Dodge Ram EcoDiesel and would be able to continue running my business as usual.

I cannot get any reliable or helpful information on this matter from any source.

Please kindly advise me how much time it will take to solve this issue of the EPA certification on emissions of EcoDiesel engines.

Looking forward to hearing back from you.

Best Regards,
Boris Levitin
